Learning new skills is hard, and when you're a preschooler every skill is new. Learning to manage your own behavior can be the hardest skill of all. Teaching self-management can be an intensive process, but it's a skill that is crucial to kindergarten readiness. When children can navigate the classroom with minimal adult assistance, they learn to take ownership of their own actions and choices, they treat others better, and are better able to calm themselves and to problem solve. Come learn the five steps to teaching self-management skills so you and your children can reap the benefits. (2 DCDEE contact hours $7.00)
